Testimonial

Optomed Aurora IQ has been advertised with its AI-integration, so I was very curious to test it. It is easy to activate the AI on the camera and I was impressed by the smooth process.

After getting the connection activated and getting started, it was a great experience for both me and my patients to take images and send them for analysis. In less than 1 minute we could get the screening results directly to the camera display. Comparing that to the traditional way of doing things is not even worth comparing!

The new software features of Aurora IQ are great as well. The image quality is excellent, and the auto exposure is a clever function to accelerate the imaging procedure, which is always important for the patients. There is also less to remember for the operators who do not use the camera on the daily basis.

I have been using Optomed Aurora IQ for about two months now and it has been performing exactly how Optomed promised. More importantly it has performed better than I expected.

Yours sincerely,
